GOVT. OF MYSORE.

Dated Bangalore, the 18th August 1942.

Visits of Prominent Indians to Troops.

SIR,

I am directed to state that the Military authorities consider that prominent Indian gentlemen should be given every opportunity to visit training battalions and also active formations and garrison battalions whenever it could conveniently be arranged. They consider that such visits would do much to dispel rumours concerning treatment of recruits and induce civilians to take a more active interest in the Army and that these measures would improve recruiting.

2. If the Government of Mysore approve of the suggestion, I am to request that the names of suitable Indian gentlemen who would like to carry out visits to Units within the Bangalore Area, may kindly be furnished to this Residency at an early date for transmission to the military authorities.

I have the honour to be,

Re: Visits of Prominent Indians to Troops.

With reference to your memo No.M4-904/42 dated 9th September, 42, re: the above and calling for some proposals, I have the honour to state that the Village Group Contact Scheme has since been formed as per enclosed printed memo. This serves the need mentioned in the communication under advertance.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER,
Bangalore District.

VILLAGE GROUP CONTACT SCHEME.

Objects.—With a view to popularise and stimulate War efforts, many important measures have been undertaken in Mysore, chief of which are, the Organisation of District War Fund Committees, Village Vigilance Committees, National War Front Committees, etc. With the rapid developments for the prosecution of the war, Military troops have had to be stationed round about Bangalore and in the vicinity of important towns and other areas to protect the local population. But due to a lack of proper understanding, there is not always that amount of harmonious feeling and liaison between the Military and the Civil population that should really exist, particulary during times like the present. In order to bring about this much needed close and cordial relationship between the troops and the local population, and to make the people realise that the troops have been stationed in their interest, it is found necessary to establish local Village Committees round about Bangalore and in the vicinity of other areas where troops have been stationed. With this end in view, the following scheme called "THE VILLAGE GROUP CONTACT SCHEME" has been inaugurated.

2. Constitution.—Separate village contact groups will be constituted for each village or group of villages, situated near each Military area. The personnel of the Contact Group Committees will consist of the Patel, the Shanbhog, influential Village Panchayet members and one or two important non-official members of the Taluk, who have been taking active interest for the successful prosecution of the war. The local Revenue Officers should co-operate with these Contact Groups and render every assistance to achieve their objective.

3. Functions.—(i) The Contact Group will meet once a month or oftener if possible.

(ii) They will meet in a public place close to the Military Camps, invite the Military to their meetings, enter into friendly relations with the troops, act as guides and interpreters, and above all convey to the people that the presence of troops in their neighbourhood is for their defence and security and should inspire confidence.

(iii) The Revenue Inspector or an intelligent school master or some other non-official gentleman who knows English, Kannada and one other language in addition will act as interpreter between the Group Committees and the Military personnel.

(iv) The Military authorities, on their part, will arrange suitable demonstrations of weapons and war equipment and will also arrange friendly talks and discussions on defence measures and explain how the rural population can best co-operate with them.

(v) Military Units will invite these Village Groups to their camp and lines and will generally try to establish mutual respect and confidence. Tea parties, watching sports and games, listening to wireless broadcast programmes are some methods by which this can be done.

(vi) Programmes of the visits of the Military to these Committees will be announced beforehand in consultation with the Military authorities.

(vii) As soon as these Committees have been established and their locations fixed, the Military authorities will depute one or more Military Units with whom direct contact will be effected.

With a view to give effect to the above Scheme, the following groups of Village Committees will be established, with effect from 7th September 1942, for the country around Bangalore. The personnel of the committees is provisionally constituted as noted below, subject to such additions or alterations as may be found necessary from time to time.

Similar Committees will be formed in the other areas also where the Military have been stationed, e.g., at Kolar and Harihar. The Revenue Inspectors of the respective hoblis will be the Convenors of the committees who will keep the Military in contact with the group committees, working through the Civil Liaison Officer attached to Headquarters, Bangalore Area.

My dear Mehkri,

Please refer to the Bangalore Deputy Commissioner's letter No. M4-904 dated 17-9-1942 re: the above, recommending that the personnel of the several groups of the village Committees referred to in the village Group Contact Scheme (copy enclosed) to carry out visits to troops etc., I write to recommend, in addition, that a dozen members of the National War Front in Bangalore may also be included as persons with whom such contact should be established.

Yours sincerely,

Chief Secretary to Government of Mysore, BANGALORE.

VILLAGE GROUP CONTACT SCHEME.

Objects.—With a view to popularise and stimulate War efforts, many important measures have been undertaken in Mysore, chief of which are, the Organisation of District War Fund Committees, Village Vigilance Committees, National War Front Committees, etc. With the rapid developments for the prosecution of the war, Military troops have had to be stationed round about Bangalore and in the vicinity of important towns and other areas to protect the local population. But due to a lack of proper understanding, there is not always that amount of harmonious feeling and liaison between the Military and the Civil population that should really exist, particulary during times like the present. In order to bring about this much needed close and cordial relationship between the troops and the local population, and to make the people realise that the troops have been stationed in their interest, it is found necessary to establish local Village Committees round about Bangalore and in the vicinity of other areas where troops have been stationed. With this end in view, the following scheme called "THE VILLAGE GROUP CONTACT SCHEME" has been inaugurated.

2. Constitution.—Separate village contact groups will be constituted for each village or group of villages, situated near each Military area. The personnel of the Contact Group Committees will consist of the Patel, the Shanbhog, influential Village Panchayet members and one or two important non-official members of the Taluk, who have been taking active interest for the successful prosecution of the war. The local Revenue Officers should co-operate with these Contact Groups and render every assistance to achieve their objective.

3. Functions.—(i) The Contact Group will meet once a month or oftener if possible.

(ii) They will meet in a public place close to the Military Camps, invite the Military to their meetings, enter into friendly relations with the troops, act as guides and interpreters, and above all convey to the people that the presence of troops in their neighbourhood is for their defence and security and should inspire confidence.

(iii) The Revenue Inspector or an intelligent school master or some other non-official gentleman who knows English, Kannada and one other language in addition will act as interpreter between the Group Committees and the Military personnel.

(iv) The Military authorities, on their part, will arrange suitable demonstrations of weapons and war equipment and will also arrange friendly talks and discussions on defence measures and explain how the rural population can best co-operate with them.

(v) Military Units will invite these Village Groups to their camp and lines and will generally try to establish mutual respect and confidence. Tea parties, watching sports and games, listening to wireless broadcast programmes are some methods by which this can be done.

(vi) Programmes of the visits of the Military to these Committees will be announced beforehand in consultation with the Military authorities.

(vii) As soon as these Committees have been established and their locations fixed, the Military authorities will depute one or more Military Units with whom direct contact will be effected.

With a view to give effect to the above Scheme, the following groups of Village Committees will be established, with effect from 7th September 1942, for the country around Bangalore. The personnel of the committees is provisionally constituted as noted below, subject to such additions or alterations as may be found necessary from time to time.

Similar Committees will be formed in the other areas also where the Military have been stationed, e.g., at Kolar and Harihar. The Revenue Inspectors of the respective hoblis will be the Convenors of the committees who will keep the Military in contact with the group committees, working through the Civil Liaison Officer attached to Headquarters, Bangalore Area.
